

*The degree to which thought influences a broader Outlook upon life is reflected in the various works
One consciously gives time to: whatever springs
From the creative flow-state embodying aspects
Of the mind's desire to create something unique:
As inspiration takes root, the path is cleared of all
Obstacles preventing one from attaining a deeper
Understanding of the veiled nature of existence:
The closer a dream is to attainment, a sense of Nervous anticipation rises to the mind's surface
The vision's clarity spurring one to take action:
As visions of the mind's eye are all too fleeting.*
